ARTIST MARILYNN BARR RETURNING AFTER 26 YEARS

Soon after Hallimar Properties opened The Guilford Building in 1993, an attractive, children's book illustrator named Marilyn Barr, came here seeking a place to work. She first moved into room 314 and set up her studio and over the years ended up in rooms 211-13 and then in room 208. By 2005, family circumstances forced her to give up her business here, but through the years her artist hands were never idle.

Today Marilyn is a painter and creator of a ceramics shoe collection which will be featured in our lobby display case in the fall. Marilyn also has agreed to do a painting for the 10th floor. Her new studio will be open here in suite 327-28 in November.

Effective 1 July 2019 I resumed my solo practice following the dissolution of Sparrow Dennis & Medlin PA. I will continue to represent clients in commercial litigation, with an emphasis on construction law. I will also continue to represent parties with issues involving local land use and code enforcement issues, save and except for the Towns of Oak Ridge and Pleasant Garden, for whom I serve as town attorney.

A BIT OF ELEVATOR NEWS

Major components of our new elevators have been in engineering and are now being released to manufacturing. How long the manufacturing stage will take is yet to be determined, but Southern Elevator Company knows our situation and is trying to expedite each stage of our project. Meanwhile, lots of electrical work is going on in the building in anticipation of the new elevators.

As always, thank you for your patience as we persevere with one elevator.

WELCOME CHESLEY KENNEDY

Office 607 has just been painted in pleasing shades of gray to accommodate Ches Kennedy and his professional coaching business. He moved in on August 1 and got right to work. Ches especially appreciates the panoramic view of Downtown from his two north-facing windows.

The Guilford Building will be closed on Monday, September 2,
In observance of Labor Day.
