

Governor Cooper Appointed Kelvin Smith to District Court Seat

Kelvin Smith, previously with his law firm at The Guilford Building, is now Judge Smith and is hearing cases in district court in Greensboro and High Point. Reportedly, he is "getting the hang of it" as more and more people appear before his bench.

Here are some additional details from Issuewire.com about Kelvin's appointment:

On June 12, 2020, North Carolina Governor Roy Cooper appointed Greensboro attorney Kelvin D. Smith to the 18th District Court serving Guilford County. Smith, who recently won the primary election for the seat, will serve out the remainder of the vacated term left by Judge Mark Cummings retirement.

The appointment came following a nomination made from the Guilford County Bar Association during a Special Joint Meeting of the 24th Judicial District Bar and 24H Judicial District Bar.

Smith's appointment became effective following his installment on Friday June 19th, 2020.

*This is Kelvin's serious judge look.
At The Guilford Building, he's all smiles.*

Mail Delivery Alert

Our excellent mail carrier, Wayne Griffin, underwent emergency surgery for a ruptured appendix on July 14. As of July 20, Wayne was still in the hospital. He probably will need two to three weeks to recover and return to work.

In the meantime substitute carriers are working hard to serve The Guilford Building. Let Karen at the lobby desk know if you have any concerns about your mail delivery during Wayne's absence.

NEW TO THE BUILDING

- ✦ Ruwack Irrevocable Trust
headed by Isaac Cain
Offices 515-516
- ✦ Attorney Gia M. Gaster
Office 514

Welcome!

Attention History Buffs

Parts from our old elevators are available in the leasing office. Floor buttons with the General Greene icon and up/down arrows are going fast. Hurry in and take away a piece of history. No charge.

